

Kurt Vickery Monocot seed list July 2011

Welcome to the 2011 main seed list

Producing a seed list on a regular basis, I can now sympathise with the farmers, there always seems like there is something to complain about!, I was supposed to be co-leading a tour to Syria in April, but with just a few days to go the foreign office advised against travelling there. With some very good work by Ian Green we were able to change flights and instead went just over the border in Turkey, I was very disappointed to say the least that we weren't able to visit Syria, but Turkey delivered some very memorable moments, we were very lucky to see huge colonies of Iris sari and sprengeri amongst many other treasures. Of course

My heart goes out to the innocent victims of the troubles in Syria, and hope that the opportunity to visit will come up again one day. Back home we were having a major heatwave, Abi did an excellent job of collecting Crocus seeds, but had strict instructions not to water (I would probably have given just a drop here and there if I had known). Ian Young in his excellent bulblog, said that he had never known bulbs 'go back' so early, me too!, I really don't think some bulbs coped very well with it, and my Fritillary harvest was definitely affected quite badly

Anyway, we did manage to come up with a few items, some of which I hope will be of interest. Special thanks are due to Peter Bird and Filip Seys for donating some really good wild material

All seeds are from hand pollinated and /or isolated plants unless otherwise stated w/c means wild collected o.p. means open pollinated

Items marked with an * are in short supply

Items marked  are likely to sell out within hours of this list being e-mailed

Numbers in brackets refer to the number of seeds per packet, some of these will be very few, so please pay careful attention before ordering

I will update stock levels each Sunday, just e-mail if you want to know
