

Fritillaria ehrhartii

Fritillaria michailovskyi

Fritillaria conica

Fritillaria messanesis ssp gracilis

Fritillaria graeca ssp thessala

Ranunculus ficaria Green Petal

Anemone nemorosa Virescens

Muscari macrocarpum

Iris Dwarf Bearded Cerulean

Iris histriodes Major

Iris danfordiae

Iris Reticulata Alida

Iris x histriodes Sheila Ann Germany

Iris reticulata Clairette

Iris reticulata Purple Gem

Iris reticulata Natasha

Allium schubertii A rare and striking allium bearing a large, loosely spherical cluster of star-shaped florets in rose-pink as big as a soccer ball! Flower head has upwards to 200 florets, each on its own individual pedicel and these vary in length. The overall effect is like a frozen fireworks display.

FS $15.00

Allium siculum (syn. Nectaroscordum siculum) Tall accent plant for the border. Beautiful bell shaped, nodding greenish-white flowers with maroon central stripe along each segment. Up to 30 flowers on stems over 1m.

FS/1st $5.00

Allium sphaerocephalon Invaluable late flowering drumstick with egg-shaped flowers that start green in bud and develop to pink and then red-purple as they mature. Tall stems and eye-catching blooms.

3 variously sized bulbs for $5.00

Allium stipitatum "Mt Everest" Snow white globes, the size of a grapefruit, on tall stems makes this a valuable addition to the late spring garden, particularly when paired with A. aflatunense or A. atropurpureum. Great cut flower, especially when combined with dark flowers, like aquilegias, lilacs and early salvias.

FS/1st $5.00 or 3 for $13.00

Allium uniflorum "Chris' Dwarf" A beautiful dwarf form of this easy, but showy, American onion. It has gorgeous bright, lilac-pink flowers in large umbels on 20 cm stems over a very long period in spring.

FS/1st $3.00 or 3 for $10.00

Anemone blanda Blue Forms These early Grecian windflowers are a pure delight. Flowers in various shades of blue over deep green, finely dissected leaves - a good ground cover throughout winter and spring.

FS/1st $4.50

Anemone blanda "Pink Form" Large, soft pink flowers up to 5cm across. An outstanding variety that has that special "tingle factor".

FS/1st $5.00

Anemone coronaria Very showy flowers for hot dry sites in an amazing range of shades from pastel pink and smoky blue through to red. This strain is from the Sir Frederick Stern's Highdown Garden in Sussex.

FS/1st $2.50 or 3 for $7.00

Anemone nemorosa "Blue Eyes" This rare beauty hails from Ireland and has a many admirers. Opens from a tight bud into a fluffy white ball of petals that gradually draw back to reveal a steel blue "eye".

FS/1st $6.00

Anemone nemorosa "Blue Queen" Richest blue flowers of all available forms. A very good selection which, looks well as perfect background to other specimen plants, like hellebores or prunus.

FS/1st $4.00 or $10.00

Anemone nemorosa "Bowles Variety" "Oh dear me, in what fit words can one describe its Quakerish loveliness", says E.A. Bowles in his eulogy to his eponymous variety. I'll give it a go! Very good, strong growing, large flowered variety bearing broad petalled blooms of mid-blue.

FS/1st $3.50

Anemone nemorosa "Bracteata Pleniflora" A long-cultivated distinct variety bearing large, semi-double flowers that are splashed with green and stained purple in the throat. Neat, dark green, filagree foliage.

FS/1st $4.00 or 3 for $10.00

Anemone nemorosa "Dee Day" Discovered in France by Frank Waley in 1914. Blooms are of good size and numbers and a pleasing lavender-blue. Foliage is a delicate tracery of healthy green forming a soft groundcover.

FS/1st $4.00

Anemone nemorosa "Leeds Variety" A robust grower with very large, pure-white flowers on strong stems, almost twice as large as normal white forms.

FS/1st $4.00 or 3 for $10.00

Anemone nemorosa "Lychette" There are a good many large-flowered white varieties but this would have to be my personal favourite. Outward-facing flowers of great substance on tall stems that last for weeks.

FS/1st $4.00 or 3 for $11.00

Anemone nemorosa "Hilda" Dainty, semi-double white flowers floating on a sea of dark green, filagree foliage. An exceptional variety of delicate loveliness and rarely offered.

FS/1st $5.00

Anemone nemorosa "Marts Blue" This is the darkest blue of selection of all the nemorosa varieties, found in the forests of Estonia. Late flowering, dark blue flowers over strong, long-lasting filigree foliage. FS/1st $5.00

Anemone nemorosa "Robinsoniana" Flowers very large, palish blue with a slightly buff reverse. One of the most robust and largest flowered of all cultivars. FS/1st $3.50

Anemone nemorosa "Vestal" A superb, bone-white double form where the extra row of petals form a tight central rosette. FS/1st $ 4.00 or 3 for $11.00

Anemone nemorosa "Virescens" Each broad flower head is a soft filigree of ferny green leaflets, like green lace. A lovely foil for narcissus, scilla, chionodoxa and especially dark-flowering hellebores. FS/1st $4.00 or 3 for $10.00

Anemone nemorosa "Winterwood Pink" A superb variety whose flowers start white in bud and age through from soft pink to raspberry, outstanding, strong deeply cut foliage. FS/1st $5.00

Anemone nemorosa "Wyatts Pink" Another excellent member of this group. Opens white and shades to pink in the first few days with a darker pink reverse to the petals. FS/1st $5.00

Anemone trifolia x A. nemorosa Unique cross has produced a superior plant with larger, longer-lasting, clean white flowers, more freely produced, on taller stems. Handsome, deep green leaves trifoliate serrated leaflets. Exclusive offering FS/1st $5.00

Anemone pavonina Brilliant, eye-burning scarlet, saucer-shaped flowers with dark anthers often surrounded by a central white zone. The epitome of a Greek spring and collected by us in the braided gullies of the Peloponnese. FS/1st $4.00

Anemone ranunculoides flore plena Probably more semi-double but this is the form offered under this epithet. Bright yellow disks over fresh green much dissected foliage in late winter. Rarely offered. FS/1st $4.00 or 3 for $11.00

Anemone ranunculoides ssp. wockeana This wood anemone is smaller than the more widespread type and has vivid yellow flowers and more sharply toothed leaves and burnished red pedicels. Rarely offered FS/1st $5.00

Anemone x seemanii (syn. lipsiensis) A hybrid between A. ranunculoides and A. nemorosa. This choice anemone bears large soft yellow flowers over dark ferny foliage in early spring. Lovely addition to the early spring garden. FS $4.00 or 3 for $10.00

Arum albispatham Crimean species with glossy green, unmarked leaves and a pure white spathe sometimes marked externally with green. Janis Ruksans collection in North Osethia. FS/1st $ 4.00 or 3 for $10.00

Arum concinatum (syn. A. nickeli) An endemic species of Crete with pale green spathe and pale yellow to pale cream spadix, blotched purple. Leaves dark glossy green blotched silver grey. FS/1st $ 4.00 or 3 for $10.00

Arum dioscoridis Striking Turkish species with large green spathes heavily blotched and speckled in velvety black-purple and green marbled leaves. Another rare offering for a dry summer nook. FS/1st $5.00

Arum hygrophilum Bright green lanceolate leaves, purple spadix and hooded greenish-white spathe finely edged in plum-purple. An elegant species native to Crete and Libya. FS/1st $5.00

Arum pictum The only autumn-flowering species. Large maroon spathe shelters a dark purple, almost black spadix, well above dark green, glossy foliage. FS/1st $5.00

Bellavalia dubia Tall spires of loosely spaced bells of the most brilliant ultramarine in late spring. This particularly good form is from Sicily and is bone hardy in our hot dry summers. FS/1st $4.00

Bellevaia pycnantha Heads of deep, inky-black, crumpled bells in loose clusters on medium tall stems. Strangely and mysteriously beautiful - I love them! FS/1st $4.00

